

Old Business Item (a) For Future actions

1. Have building inspector inspect the site
  2. Have building inspection listed on the building card
  3. Doesn't meet set back then building inspector red tags it until it is resolved
- Spoke with the city of Fruitland. They do the same procedure. Set backs are set by property owner and then the building inspector goes out to make sure they are correctly measured from front side and back of the property. If not correct the building inspector red tags it until it is resolved. Owner should be responsible to take whatever action required to get the proper setbacks.

Questions about paving school parking lot should be directed to New Plymouth School District. Council could write a letter to the school district asking for their plan of paving completion. Here are some ideas of questions that could be put into the letter to the School District. The School District has had five years to do it, what is the plan of getting it done? Are you setting money aside for this purpose? When will it be complete?
