Some of the other Idaho Cities are extremely scared and are threatening to pull out of their contract. Legislative Committee Meeting Review – Beau made packets for the council as to what was discussed at the meeting. Beau touched on the Personal Property tax issue. There is a good chance that the personal property tax is going to go away and therefore will cut roughly Twenty thousand dollars of income to New Plymouth city. It was discussed in order to make up for this potential loss, to increase some of the cities fees that are charged. For example raising the cost of copies; The City is currently charging five cents a copy and could start charging twenty cents a copy. Councilwomen Mayer suggested these fees be discussed at the Workshop on January 7th and see what the prices should be. She would also like to know what accounts the money is being applied to.

Mayor Cook is going to write a letter of response on how cutting personal property tax will affect our city. If Council agrees with the letter, their signatures may be on the document as well.
